ORIS

The product portfolio of CGS offers the right answers to all challenges of the graphic communication process: For color management, proofing and quality control as well as the optimization of your production process and certification. Furthermore, a broad and exclusive portfolio of specially developed substrates for proofing and mock-up production is readily available.

All ORIS solutions at a glance

Color Management

With our color management solutions ORIS Lynx and ORIS Press Matcher as well as intelligent additional application modules, we provide best of breed software solutions, set standards worldwide regarding color stability, accuracy and repeatability. This guarantees maximum production safety and ensures an optimized production process.

Proofing

With ORIS Color Tuner and our exclusive ORIS Professional Media portfolio you can provide contract proof quality at any time and will reach each industry standard easily. In addition, with ORIS Flex Pack we offer a cost-effective turnkey solution for packaging proofing and mock-up production.

Communication

With ORIS CxF Tools you organize all your (brand) colors easily and safely. You keep them always up-to-date and communicate all relevant color properties and meta-data of your colors to your entire global network: From design to production – effectively and consistently.

Optimization

In the most cases production workflows will be improved by using suitable software tools. Processes can be organized more efficiently, simplified or even automated. This often results in enormous time and cost reductions and increases the quality of printing. The right tools are ORIS X Gamut and ORIS Ink Saver.

Certification

With ORIS Certified // Web and ORIS Evaluate we offer perfectly aligned solutions to allow an easy and reliable quality control of proofs, prints, digital and conventional printing systems. You can control your data at each place in the world via web browser and analyze them in detail.

Media

Of course, no inkjet proofing system is complete, nor can it provide contract-proof quality without the right media. CGS has created the ORIS Professional Media family, which encompasses specially formulated media for the stringent needs of classic digital proofing as well as a large portfolio of eco solvent media for (flexible) proofs and to produce even complex mock-ups.

Case Studies

"It is not just the cost savings. With ORIS Press Matcher we get great color stability across all machines. I was initially surprised how well we achieved the same result on all of them. Furthermore, we can now reproduce special colors and match standards with ease. In the past that used to take an enormous amount of time and effort going around and around again. Since we´ve got ORIS Press Matcher, we no longer have that problem – all fits perfectly."

Felix Faller, Production Manager Pre-Press & Press, Hanbuch Packaging

"Clearly, the most important benefits of ORIS Press Matcher is the quality improvement that we achieve with it."

Bernhard Stiefel,
Managing Director
Stiefel Digitalprint &
Eurocart GmbH
